

MRS. YAZVAC'S 6TH GRADE NEWSLETTER

Week of March 28 - April 1, 2022

This looks like a busy week, 6th Grade!

On Monday, we will have a visit from the WVU Mountaineer at 9:30. I am staying with you because I don't want to miss this! You may dress down by wearing WVU tops with uniform bottoms.

On Monday afternoon we will be having a visit from a famous, historic figure. I will be giving you more information on Monday morning. I am supposed to choose some students to help reenact a famous, historic battle . . . I do not like violence, people!! I need to pray about this . . .

On Friday, we will be having an "Open House" for students and their families who may be interested in attending our lovely school next year. Let's be sure to be on our "most lovely" behavior!

MATH: You need to finish the Sumdog Fractions, Decimals, and Percents Challenge before 8:30 on Monday evening. You also need to complete at least 2 skills before the end of March, which is coming up soon! Send me those screenshots when you are confused!

We will continue working in our math book on ordering fractions, decimals, and percents. We might even get those protractors and compasses back out, as long as the battle reenactors, after reenacting that big battle, do not think everything is a weapon now!!

READING/ENGLISH/SPELLING: Holes, Holes, Holes!!! We will have a spelling test this week on Set #8 words! Holes, Holes, Holes!! We will edit sentences. Holes, Holes, Holes!!! We will write an acrostic poem. Do you remember what that is? Holes, Holes, Holes!!! Are you reading for AR? You should be. I will be posting your AR points soon. It is early in the 9 weeks, but I bet some of you have already earned some points! Holes, Holes, Holes!!! Did I mention we will continue reading “Holes” this week? This is a break week for the TFK magazine, so we will be spending all of our Reading class time reading “Holes!” Did I ever tell you how much I love the book, “Holes?” I really cannot read parts of it out loud. Part of the story is heartbreaking . . .

Religion: Penance and Forgiveness with Ms. Rosie!

Love you like a Grandma, Mrs. Yazvac
