

MRS. YAZVAC'S 6TH GRADE NEWSLETTER

Week of September 19-23, 2022

HAPPY FIRST DAY OF FALL (This Thursday, 9/21)!

Hello Sixth Graders!

I hope you all had a nice 3 days off. I also hope you completed all of your Tech Day work and will be ready to turn that in on Monday morning.

There is a Sumdog contest that began last Friday. You will compete if we receive our iPads before the contest ends on Thursday!

I think Fall is my favorite season. I will try to do a little something to help us celebrate on Thursday. Hopefully, those progress reports that go home on that very same day will also be something to “celebrate!”

Your big “Pumpkin Drop” happens on Friday. Mrs. Goldizen will likely be with you for that. I forgot to ask you about the ice cream last Thursday. I hated to miss that!!

As always, please be sure to look at the important “Upcoming Events” listed below. New items appear highlighted in yellow.

Here is the plan for this week:

MATH: You will have an Order of Operations problem posted to the board every morning beginning this Monday. Be sure to draw your steps so you don’t skip anything. Remember to circle one thing to solve on each line. When you solve the problem, you may write your final answer on the board. Do not duplicate answers. If you agree with an answer, you may place a tally mark beside it. If you disagree, write your different answer on the board and draw a box around it.

We will begin working with Ratios in Chapter 1 Lesson 2 this week. This should not be too difficult for you. It will be like keeping score at a ballgame or working with fractions. Be patient with yourselves!

RELIGION: We will complete Chapter 2 “Sacrifice and Promise”

MR SAMMY WILL BE TEACHING: The God given theological virtue of Faith

Love you like a Grandma, Mrs. Yazvac
